

CV Maniatis Thanasis

Thanasis Maniatis received his B.A. in Business Administration from the Athens University of Economics and Business Science and the M.A and Ph.D. in Economics from the Graduate Faculty of the New School for Social Research, New York, USA. He taught at the Long Island University at Brooklyn and then he was employed as a researcher at the Centre of Planning and Economic Research in Athens. He has been teaching Marxist Political Economy and various other courses at the undergraduate and graduate level in the Department of Economics of the University of Athens since 1996. He has published in Journals such as the Review of Radical Political Economics, Capital and Class, Cambridge Journal of Economics, Review of Political Economy and his research interests include Marxist economics, analysis and measurement of poverty, didtribution and crisis theories and the welfare state.